Homeward Bound.
Can't Scare Wall St.
The Greatest News.
15 Billions to Spare.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

FAR above the ocean, flying back in Germany, the great Graf Zeppelin is homeward bound. The world admires the efficiency of the German engineers and builders, and congratulates the brilliant air captain, Dr. Eckener.
And the world's small boys will envy one American boy, making the trip as a stowaway.

WITH the election only one week away Wall Street still refuses to be frightened, to shiver or shake, or lower prices, in fact, prices go up.

IT must be that high finance does not take seriously the kind of "Socialism" attributed to Gov. Smith.

As a matter of fact everybody knows it is "government" or "state Socialism" that Mr. Hoover had in mind. That was invented by Bismarck and doesn't frighten anybody.
On the contrary, it is a good thing, as Germany has discovered, after you get used to it.

THE most important news in the world has nothing to do with the election, or the intelligence of the modern "flapper" highly prized by educational authorities. The year's important news tells of a giant telescope, with a 200-inch mirror that will reveal to the eyes of men hundreds of millions of new stars and distant "universes."

APPALLING to man's feeble intellect is a thing instrument that will bring within reach of our eyes the light of nebulae in far-off universe, light that has been traveling through space one billion years, at a speed of 150,000 miles a second.

MR. RASKOB, a brilliantly able business man, said probably out of politeness to please political associates, that our prosperity is not genuine. The General Motors company, for which he has done good work, seems not to share his opinion, judging by the price of its stock and the size of its earnings.

MR. MELLON, secretary of the treasury, thinks our prosperity is sound enough and so do others of financial ability.
Mr. Frederick Ecker, vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, says the main element in prosperity is the wage earner's "back log."

WORKERS in this country earn about ONE HUNDRED BILLION dollars a year.

There is a good deal of extravagance and waste, but in spite of that, not more than 85 per cent of the earnings is spent. This means that the people earn each year FIFTEEN BILLIONS more than they spend.

EVERY year, after paying their living expenses, the people have left

Cleveland Gets Another Factory.
CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—The Chase Brass & Copper company, of Waterbury, Conn., will build a midwestern plant in Cleveland. It was announced here today by the Chamber of Commerce. Chamber of Commerce officials said the announcement came from F. S. Chase, president of the company. Details concerning the new plant to be built here have not yet been announced.

TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Dense Fog Blamed for Collision in Penn Avenue.

Two men were injured in a head-on collision between two automobiles near the "red steps" in Pennsylvania avenue at 5:30 o'clock this morning.
They were:

Barton Stewart, 25, 824 Riverside street and Fred Popp, 32, Park avenue, East End. Stewart was lacerated on the nose, while Popp was cut on the throat and chin by broken glass from the windshield.

Stewart, a mill worker, was driving a roadster, east in Pennsylvania enroute to Midland. Popp, operating a touring car, was enroute to Newell, traveling westward. Neither driver saw the other approaching because of the dense fog.

Patrolman Herman Roth, who investigated the wreck, took Popp to the City hospital where his injuries were dressed. Stewart was attended by Dr. H. A. Turk.

Both men were ordered to appear before Municipal Judge Hanley for questioning. No charges were preferred.

Both automobiles, badly wrecked, were removed to the McElravy Brothers' garage in Market street.

Passengers, Stowaway and Crew Report
"All Well."

BORDEAUX, France, Oct. 31.—
The wireless station at Merig-nac reported that the Graf Zeppelin flew over the Gulf of Gascony at 11:21 o'clock this morning, French time.

600 Miles from Home Hangar.
The Gulf of Gascony is on the extreme southern coast of France, just above the Spanish border, near Biarritz, indicating that the Zeppelin has been forced onto a course far south of that contemplated just as was the case on the airship's westward flight.
It is some 400 miles southwest of Paris.

From the Gulf of Gascony the Graf, with its 24 passengers, crew of 40,
and one stowaway, will have to travel more than 600 miles in a direct airline before reaching its home hangar at Friedrichshafen. As it was almost noon when the ship reached the gulf, it was estimated that it would not reach its destination until late tonight.

Passes Over Bay of Biscay.
LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Graf Ze-ppelin was over the Bay of Biscay, 140 miles off Bordeaux, France, at 3:30 p. m. Greenwich Mean time, or 10:30
a. m. Eastern Standard time, the British air ministry announced this afternoon.

Passes Over European Mainland.
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 31.—
The homeward-bound Graf Zeppelin, bearing passengers, mails and cargo from Lakehurst, N. J., to this airport, passed over the European mainland near the mouth of the Gironde river, in France, this afternoon.

Word was received here that the

MRS. GARVER, 82, DIES IN HOME

Mrs. Martha Garver, 82, died today in the home of her son, John Garver,
La Croft, after three months' illness.
Mrs. Garver, who was born in Racine,
O., had lived in East Liverpool for 38 years.

Besides her son, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hattie Vanness, Ravenswood, Va., and Mrs. Josie Rawling, Akron.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, in charge of the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church.
Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

NOSELESS MAN UNDERGOES KNIFE

COSHOCKTON, O., Oct. 31.—Thomas Gauley, 19, of St. Louis, Mo., formerly of this city, will undergo five operations in an effort to have a nose placed on his face, according to word received here today.

Gauley, born without a nose, has been handicapped by reason of the de-formity, especially in his efforts to find employment, it is said, and for that reason the operations, which will extend over a year's time, have been decided on.

Dr. Vilray Papin Blair, plastic surgeon, has been selected to perform the operations.

CHORAL PRELUDE

Newly Formed Choir Holds Initial Practice.

Final plans for the dedication at 7:30 o'clock tonight of the Rev. W. A.
Sunday tabernacle, Second and Washington streets, were made last night after the initial practice of the 200-voice choir.

Announcement was made that the Rev. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, would not be able to make the dedicatory prayer as chairman of the prayer meeting committee. In his stead the Rev. John F. Dimitt, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, was selected by reason of the fact that he is the only pastor now in East Liverpool who was here during the 1912 revival.

The Rev. Edwin Kirby, D. D., of Elmira, who was the chairman of the executive committee during the initial appearance of the evangelist here will make the dedicatory address.

Program by Choir
The newly formed choir, directed by Prof. Laughlin, will give a program as a prelude to the sermon. The Rev.

PLAN WHEELING PLANE SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—William Brook and Edward F. Schlee, who reached Japan on their flight round the world from Newfoundland, are planning an airplane service from Wheeling, W. Va., and will be eastern distributors for the reorganized Bel-lanca Aircraft corporation.

Plans of Brook and Schlee are not yet formed, it was said today. They have ordered 300 planes from the Bel-lanca company and it is believed tentative plans call for operation of a number of air lines radiating from Wheeling.

NOMINEE PACKING

Candidate Prepares For St. Louis Speech
Friday.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—National prosperity, tax reduction, business stability and the protective tariff were rushed to the front line trenches today as the Republican party's major issues as the campaign to elect Herbert Hoover president entered its final stage.

While the Republican nominee began the work of closing up his capital headquarters, the leading spokesmen of the party hammered home business issues as a final reason for a Republican victory next Tuesday. Hoover will touch upon the same issues lightly in his St. Louis speech Friday night, which will be devoted chiefly to a further explanation of his farm relief program and his proposal for developing inland waterways.

The Republican strategists meanwhile swept prohibition aside in their battle for the "Atlantic seaboard," even though Democratic leaders have sought to make the wet and dry question a paramount question from Massachusetts to Maryland. In the south and west, however, the Republicans raised the issue, pointing to Hoover's defense of the Eighteenth amendment and his Democratic opponent's proposal for changing the dry amendment.

East Battleground.
In the east, still looked upon by Hoover advisers as the great battleground, the tariff was given a greater play than at any previous time during the campaign. Both Charles Evans Hughes, speaking in Worcester,
Mass., and Secretary of State Frank
B. Kellogg, speaking from here over the radio, stressed the importance to the country of keeping the Republican party in power to control the tariff. Both credited American prosperity in large part to the action of the tariff in barring out cheap competitive foreign-made goods.

Kellogg paid a glowing tribute to Hoover.
"He is a natural leader of men," said Kellogg, "one who seeks always the most earnest cooperation of those who work with him. His vision takes in the needs of the whole country. He has proved what he can do in organizing and carrying through the greatest humanitarian work in history. His commercial ideas are sound. There is

THIEVES LOOT PARKED AUTO

Overcoat and Traveling

Visitor's Car.

Thieves who have been operating in the Northside district for the last month or six weeks, looted the automobile of William Archard, New Kensington, Pa., while parked in Orchard Grove avenue last night. An overcoat and a traveling bag containing men's clothing were stolen.

Archard, who came here to attend the funeral of the late Henry Schneidmiller, sr., left his car parked in front of the Schneidmiller home.

Patrolman Elwyn Shenkel investigated but no clue could be found.
More than a dozen automobiles have been robbed and refrigerators looted in the Northside district in recent weeks, according to reports made to police.

Great Electoral Army Will March To Polls

Spectacular Presidential Campaign Turns Into Stretch With Both Sides Proclaiming Confidence.

By George R. Holmes.
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The most spectacular presidential campaign in a generation turns into the stretch with both sides publicly proclaiming a great deal of confidence and privately admitting quite a few doubts.

The Democrats are asking themselves if Governor Smith can hold the east. The Republicans are asking themselves if Secretary Hoover can overcome the admitted Republican disaffection in the farming states.
And both Republicans and Democrats join in trying to analyze the enormous increase in registration that is nation-wide.

Of only one thing are both sides absolutely certain. That is that next Tuesday will see the greatest electoral army ever assembled marching to the polls to make the decision.
There is not a single state that does not show greatly increased registration figures, ranging as high as 50 per cent in some states.

New Voters May Decide Election.
Estimates of this "new vote" as the politicians describe it, range all the way from five to ten millions.
The new voters may conceivably decide the election.

"Is it Smith or anti-Smith?" the managers ask themselves. The answering echo is silence.

The Republicans hope and for the most part believe that the new vote is for Hoover. In substantiation they point to the straw votes and the polls, all of which point to a Hoover victory. A large part of this new vote, bus, secretary.

150 FRIENDS AT LUNCHEON IN HONOR OF CONGRESSMAN

Senatorial Nominee Refers to Pottery Industry.

TOURS COUNTY

Speaks in Lisbon at Rally After Dinner Tonight.

Tariff reforms to protect the American pottery industry from European markets was urged by Congressman Theodore Burton, Cleveland, Republican nominee for the short term for United States senator, in an address before 150 Republican men and women at a luncheon in the Travelers' hotel at noon today.

Reception in Wellsville.

Congressman Burton, accompanied by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, chairman of the Columbiana county Republican executive committee,
Sheriff George Wright and Attorney
W. H. Vodrey, arrived in East Liverpool at 11:30 o'clock, coming from East Palestine, where he addressed a Republican meeting in the American Lexington hall.

From East Liverpool he went to Wellsville where he was tendered a reception at city hall. He will be the guest of honor at a dinner in the Lisbon Presbyterian church at 6:30 o'clock tonight which 350 guests are expected to attend. He will deliver an address in the Lisbon opera house at 7:30 o'clock.

The luncheon here was under the auspices of the East Liverpool Republican Women's organization and other local committees. Mrs. H. A. Marshall Cronin, eighteenth district committeewoman, introduced the speaker.
Mr. Walker announced a "ring" tomorrow night, to which Columbiana county Republicans were invited.

Predicts Election of Hoover.

Burton told of his interest in the construction of Dam No. 8, near here, when he was in congress many years ago, and also pointed to the possibilities in river transportation. In discussing the tariff situation he said he favored the adoption of the American valuation plan for imported commodities, including dinner ware. He also urged the classification of imports to halt the shipments of ware into the country in bulk lots on a low tariff rate.

"If elected to the senate I will show my appreciation to the people of this community by assisting you in reforms which will aid the pottery industry," Burton said.

"Women are showing more and more industry in politics. When the Nineteenth amendment was adopted women were not given a privilege but a responsibility.

"I hesitate to think of what would be the result if Al Smith would be elected president of the United States.
Compare his method of campaigning with that of Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee. The Republican engages in no personalities, in no 'mud-slinging'. Furthermore we are not ready to elect to the presidency Tammany Hall's candidate. I predict the election of Hoover.

POTTERY MEN INDORSE BONDS

Union No. 124 Puts O.
K. on City Hall, Fire Station.

The proposed $160,000 City hall and the $40,000 fire station bond issues were endorsed by local Union No. 124, Warehousemen, Decorators and Decorative Kilnmen, at a meeting in the Potters' hall, West Sixth street, last night.

The action followed a talk by Solicitor Hoover, who pointed out that the city was now paying $3,000 a year in rentals. The life of the proposed city hall bonds, the solicitor explained, is 50 years which would mean an outlay of $150,000 in rentals, just $10,000 less than the bond total.

Hoover said that the increase in taxes, if both bond issues were approved, would amount to but 45 cents on each $1,000 valuation.

Municipal officials will attend a meeting of Local Union No. 25, Packers, tomorrow night, and Local Union
No. 9, Kilnmen, Friday night.

DR. BROOME HEADS PROPAGANDA QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Dr. Ed-school of Philadelphia, today was appointed chairman of the committee of ten of the National Education association to investigate dissemination of power trust propaganda in the schools of America. Other members were not announced.

One purpose of the inquiry it is said is to protect school children
"from one-sided viewpoints and from exploitation for commercial advertising purposes."

What Doctors Say About the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARETS, there is nothing better for the system—for the bowels.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowels' muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

CASCARETS
They Work While You Sleep!

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy Cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from Cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara, and any druggist has the candy Cascarets.

Wilson. Covers were arranged for 18 guests.

Guests were Mesdames Josephine Fair, Walter Bennett, Ray Ward, Lawrence Wilson, William Jackson and Miss Ruby Reed.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Bertha Wright in Oakland avenue.

Epworth League Party Tomorrow.

The Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will entertain with a masquerade party to-morrow night at the home of Mrs. Warren O. Hawkins, West Fifth street.

Hallowe'en Party at Coburn Home.

Honoring her children, Winnetta and Marjorie, Mrs. Thomas Coburn entertained a group of little friends recently at her home in Maplewood, with a Hallowe'en party. The guests were masked. The home was decorated with Hallowe'en novelties.

Juvenile games and story telling by Misses Helen Cunningham, Edna Argabrite, Florence Mary Smith and Lillian Adams were the pastimes.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Coburn, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Coburn and Miss Louise Adell. Covers were arranged for 25 guests.

Hostess to Ohio Club.

Mrs. James Godwin received members of the Ohio club last night at her home in West Eighth street, with a Hallowe'en party. A guessing contest was won by Mesdames Gay and George Emmerling and Francis Gillespie.

Following the unmasking, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Dolores, and Mrs. Charles Pepin, covers being arranged for 20.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Charles Pepin in Fairview street.

C. D. of A. Give Masquerade Party.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the masquerade party held last night in the Pottery hall, West Sixth street, by the Catholic Daughters of America. Mrs. Lillian McKeever was hostess. Trophies for the prettiest costume were awarded Mrs. Audrey Denmore and Miss Maude Miller, and for the most unique, Mrs. Thomas Russell and Miss Peggy Murphy. A guessing contest was won by Mrs. William Laughlin and Miss Margaret Walker.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Frank McConville, Martha Small, Marie Wurzel, Lucy Langhlin, Oris Wallace, and Misses Mary Kathryn and Geraldine Moran, Pauline Florick, Mary O'Reilly, Virginia Laneve and Audrey Bennett.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 18.

Doughboys Blamed For Damage Done Burgundy Goddess

PARIS—American doughboys are responsible for the damage done to a beautiful Burgundy goddess which stands in a grotto in Saint-Seine l'Abbaye, not far from Dijon, according to the 'Intransigeant'.

'Sequana' is her name and she was once an object of worship for the ancients. Later she became the target for American soldiers during their off time. The body is smashed and the face pitted with bullets. All around the grotto are old papers and tin cans left during the war.

The French newspaper is calling for aid in restoring the old relic, where according to legend, childless women formerly came to drink the waters.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Moderate recoveries from Tuesday's reaction were scored in the first hour today by the speculative leaders in all groups. Stocks of the theatrical companies pushed forward, under the lead of Warner Brothers, Shubert and Keith-Albee. The steel stocks and the coppers responded to the favorable news in their industries. U. S. Steel corporation's third quarterly statement having shown net earnings slightly in excess of expectations. High-priced favorites like Radio and Nickel sold up 35 points in the first period.

Hesitancy in the stock market on the eve of the election and the month-end money-shifting period is not to be wondered at. The November interest and dividend disbursements will be much larger than usual, aggregating about $350,000,000, against $100,000,000 in the same month of 1927.

Most of the industrial favorites which were under selling pressure in Tuesday's slow session snapped back today, recovering about half of their losses. Koister Radio continued its brilliant forward movement, and topped 87 for a new high, and International Nickel jumped 4 points. The Standard and Independent oils were again in the buying zone, and commanded a slightly higher range of prices.

Stocks of the steel, equipment, railroad and sugar companies were comparatively quiet, with narrow price changes. The rails made little or no response to the favorable forecasts of the October earnings statements though a few of the better grade of divided shares sold higher.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood, in 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent urino-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

COMPLICATION OF AILMENTS ROUTED LADY HAPPY AGAIN

Rheumatism Among Afflictions That Vanished Quickly When the Marvelous Konjola Came.

When Konjola comes illness vanishes and new health reigns. Konjola is a medicine of performances, not promises, and it is reasonable to believe that what this compound has done for others it will do for all who suffer. Those who are discouraged should read the statement by Mrs. H. Ahrens, 1194 Waldbridge Avenue, Toledo, Ohio. Filled with happiness over her health restored, Mrs. Ahrens said:

"I want all the world to know what Konjola did for me, a discouraged, disheartened victim of stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and rheumatism, I tried everything, and found only disappointment. At times my knees were so stiff I could not walk; indigestion caused intense gas and bloating pains; poisons stored up in my system undermined my general health, and I was at the very end of my string when Konjola was recommended.

"Too wonderful to believe were the results. Three bottles of this astonishing remedy, and I was completely restored to health. I have no pains, no rheumatism, no indigestion, and my kidneys and other organs function perfectly."

Konjola is sold in East Liverpool at Carnahan drug store and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? You are poisoned. The bowels are clogged and liver inactive. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients and olive oil. They act easily upon the bowels, free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Be beautiful. Have rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy that make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

87-YEAR-OLD WOMAN ENROLLS FOR VOTE HERE

Mrs. Katherine Snodgrass Will Support Hoover.

SISTER IS 84

Find 37 Women in Precinct Failed to Register.

Mrs. Katherine Snodgrass, familiarly known as "Aunt Kate," of West Ninth street, who will be 87 next February, is believed to be East Liverpool's oldest voter, registered for next Tuesday's election.

Her sister, Miss Sarah Snodgrass, who is past 81, is also registered. A third sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin, died two years ago at the age of 87.

The three sisters voted for Coolidge and Dawes two years ago, and Mrs. J. R. Stoddard, chairman of the women's organization in Precinct E of the Fourth ward, was told when she called yesterday that the two surviving sisters would vote for Hoover and Curtis for president and vice president and for Cooper for governor on Nov. 6. The sisters earn a livelihood by rug weaving and quilting.

One hundred and eighty-nine women are registered in the precinct. Thirty-seven women were found who did not care to exercise their suffrage, while less than 10 others were found who cannot vote because they are not citizens.

DEMOCRAT FOR CONGRESS

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in. Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free Inspection at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

- Check battery
- Check generator charging rate
- Check distributor adjustment
- Check carburetor adjustment
- Check lights
- Check brakes
- Check shock absorber adjustment
- Check tire inflation
- Check steering gear
- Change engine oil
- Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A periodic checking-up, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

DON'T SUFFER FROM STOMACH TROUBLE!

Dr. Jackson's Powder is a Safe and Inexpensive Home Remedy That Gives Quick Relief!

Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder has been successfully used for indigestion, Sour Stomach, Gas Bloating, Dizziness, Pain, spells and other forms of stomach disorder for nearly 40 years. Being a powder, it dissolves readily in the stomach and gives almost immediate relief. Thousands of testimonials like the following have been received from grateful users. "I have used Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder for the last two years. It is the only medicine that relieves me. I gladly recommend it to anyone who has stomach trouble." Sold at most good druggists. Write for big free sample. The Jackson Medicine Co., Dept. D, Zanesville, Ohio.

Famous Recipe For Stopping a Severe Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, soothes away the inflammation, and loosens the germ-laden phlegm. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for chronic coughs and other severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

WASHINGTON MOURNS DEATH OF WAR FIGURE

Robert Lansing, Aide of Wilson, Dies Suddenly.

64 YEARS OLD

Messages of Condolences From All Over World Arrive.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Washington today mourns the passing of Robert Lansing, secretary of state in the Wilson administration.

But Washington was not alone for messages of condolences from all over the world came to the Lansing home today from presidents, kings, princes, rulers, potentates and personages with whom the secretary had been associated in his duties during one of the most trying periods in American history.

Death was due to a heart attack. Mr. Lansing, who was 64 years old, had been ill for several days. He lapsed into unconsciousness at noon yesterday and died at 4:20 o'clock.

Mrs. Lansing and his two sisters, Miss Emma S. Lansing, and Miss Katherine Ten Eyck Lansing, were at the bedside when he died.

President Wilson appointed Mr. Lansing as secretary of state in June, 1915, to succeed William Jennings Bryan. He resigned from office on Feb. 13, 1920, at the request of the president. Mr. Wilson, ill in the White House, was nettled because Lansing had called meetings of the cabinet during his illness. Wilson and Lansing also had differences over foreign policy.

Since his retirement from the cabinet, Lansing had engaged in law practice here with Lester H. Woolsey, former solicitor of the state department.

LORAIN LAUNCHES "CLEAN-UP" DRIVE

LORAIN, O., Oct. 31.—A "clean-up" drive was under way here today with a new two-man vice squad appointed by Safety Director Sidney B. Royce in charge. Sergeant William Murphy and Patrolman Edward Reynolds form the vice squad.

Last night they visited about 50 places here, according to their report, arrested two men on liquor charges, closed three alleged gambling dens and ordered 20 women to leave the city. Vice and bootlegging conditions here received much publicity from a probe launched by the county grand jury, coincident with the inquiry into the Betty Heywood shooting case.

FIND THIRD LAD IN "THRILL" CRIME

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 31.—Evidence tending to connect other youths with the daring escapades of George Harsh and Richard Gallogly, alleged "thrill" slayers, probably will be used to strengthen the cases against the two college boys, it was disclosed today.

This new line of investigation was revealed as detectives and members of Solicitor General John A. Boykin's staff moved swiftly in their preparations for the trial of the youths, tentatively set for November 12.

Police declared they learned a third youth often accompanied Harsh and Gallogly, sons of wealth and aristocratic families on their holdups. Ascertaining the guilt of this youth was less than that of the students under indictment, police did not plan to prosecute him.

PRISONERS FLOG TWO DRY WORKERS

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 31.—A vigorous investigation was under way here today into the flogging in the county jail last night of two Anti-Saloon league operatives who were sentenced to be whipped by a kangaroo court.

The dry workers, Edwin R. Devlin, and Wayne Lucas, both of Indianapolis, received 30 lashes each from prisoners in the jail. They were charged with "breaking into jail."

Devlin and Lucas were lodged in jail on charges of acting as detectives without procuring state licenses. The affidavit against them was sworn out by Charles F. Boright, an employee of Stawden Walburn, a cigar store man whose arrest had been brought about by Devlin and Lucas. Boright himself was arrested later on a charge of perjury, being accused of "corruptly, falsely and feloniously making an affidavit against the two dry workers."

A short time after they were lodged in jail Devlin and Lucas were freed on bonds of $500 each but the kangaroo court had worked swiftly in the meanwhile.

take nothing for granted, be on the alert. It is time that we elect a Republican governor.

Burton urged the reelection of Congressman Murphy and also spoke in behalf of Senator Fess, who is seeking his second term.

"I stand on my record in both the house and senate," he said. "This will probably be the last time I shall be a candidate before the people and I hope for a record-breaking majority."

Burton was accompanied to Columbus county by R. G. Floyd, former postmaster of Cleveland. He came here from Van Wert where he spoke yesterday. A committee met him at Beaver Falls where he left the train at 7:30 o'clock this morning. He will be driven to his home in Cleveland by Sheriff George Wright, following the Lisbon meeting.

WILSON'S STATE SECRETARY DIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The body of Robert Lansing, secretary of state under President Wilson, is expected to arrive here today from Washington, where he died yesterday. Funeral service and burial will take place in this city, which was Dr. Lansing's birthplace.

The bell at the city hall was tolled for several minutes last night in mourning for the former diplomat.

RETURN FLIGHT OF AIR LINER

(Eastern Standard time used throughout.)

Oct. 29.—1:54 a. m.—Left Lakehurst, N. J., for Friedrichshafen, Germany.

3:10 a. m.—Passed over New York City.

6:25 a. m.—Passed Chatham, Mass., on Cape Cod, headed for Halifax.

10:15 a. m.—Passed over S. S. Laconia, 175 miles due south of Halifax, N. S.

5:20 p. m.—Reported sighted over Hillview, Trinity bay, N. F.

10:40 p. m.—Gave position at 250 miles northeast of Cape Race, N. F., heading southeasterly gales.

Oct. 30.—7:19 a. m.—S. S. Mauritanian reported dirigible about 600 miles east of Newfoundland.

10:40 a. m.—Passed over S. S. American Banker approximately 1,000 miles from Irish coast.

3:00 p. m.—Sighted S. S. Muenchen at lat. 50°20 north and long. 31°20 west, in mid-Atlantic between Newfoundland and Ireland.

7:15 p. m.—Sighted by S. S. Ryndam and S. S. Westerdijk approximately 700 miles southwest of Fastnet, Ireland, heading south-east in fair weather.

Oct. 31.—6:21 a. m.—Message from Zeppelin intercepted by government air station at Cardington gave its position as being in vicinity of Bay of Biscay.

10:30 a. m.—Reached French coast at mouth of Gironde river, near Bordeaux, 550 miles from Friedrichshafen.

Graf Over France

great airship was over the mouth of the Gironde at 3:30 p. m., French time, or 4:30 o'clock German time. She was traveling in a northeasterly direction with the evident intention of crossing France in a straight line to her home port.

Rainy Weather Prevails.

While rainy weather prevailed over a large area of France the wind was favorable for the Graf, being out of the west. She is expected to land here between 10 and 11 o'clock tonight. A special ground crew of 200 men have been trained to moor her.

It is estimated that the Zeppelin will have completed the 4,000-mile air journey from Lakehurst in less than 70 hours unless something goes wrong at the last minute.

Thousands of visitors were gathered here today from all over Germany to welcome the mighty air liner on its return from her trail-blazing journey to the western world. Hundreds of soldiers and police are patrolling the field about the hangar to handle the crowds.

LE BOURGET FLYING FIELD, PARIS, Oct. 31.—The Graf Zeppelin was over the mouth of the Gironde river at 3:30 p. m., French time, or 10:30 Eastern Standard time, according to word received here by aviation headquarters. She was flying north-eastward.

(The Gironde river flows into the Bay of Biscay, 60 miles northwest of Bordeaux.)

Passport for Stowaway.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 31.—J. E. Kehl, United States consul at Stuttgart, arrived here today to provide Clarence Terhune, the Graf Zeppelin stowaway, with a regular passport. It is expected that this will avert the $5 fine that the St. Louis youth would have had to pay for entering the country without a passport.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 31.—The Norddeich radio station was heard at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon (German time) sending weather reports to the Graf Zeppelin which indicated that the airship had run into bad weather and was encountering rain, snow and hail. However she was assisted by tail winds and was expected to be back in the good weather area by mid-afternoon.

Should the Zeppelin fly over central France she would face fog and rain, but would have tail winds in her favor.

The Graf's signals were plainly heard and her wireless apparatus was working perfectly.

No Ill Effects From Winds.

CONDEMNED MAN FILES APPEAL

Stanley Hoppe Asks Death Sentence Reversal.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 31.—Alleging 13 errors were committed in the Lucas county courts, counsel for Stanley Hoppe, Toledo, today appealed to the Ohio supreme court for a reversal of the decree of electrocution at Ohio penitentiary following his conviction of murdering 17-year-old Dorothy Sielowski.

The appeal was filed by Attorneys Eldon H. Young and Leroy W. Hunt, both of Toledo, who also asked the supreme court to issue an order staying the execution of Hoppe who is scheduled to die in the electric chair Friday night.

After listening to oral argument for and against the application for a stay of execution, the supreme court reserved decision. It was announced that the court would announce its decision this afternoon.

OHIO CAMPAIGN SCHEDULE TODAY

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31.—Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, Republican gubernatorial nominee, and Congressman James Rogers, Sandusky, unsuccessful candidate for this nomination, were scheduled to speak today in Cleveland. Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democratic candidate for governor, was slated to talk today at Troy, Greenville, Sidney and Celina, and was to speak tonight at Wapakoneta and Lima.

U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs, was to speak today at Springfield. Former Congressman Ralph D. Cole, Findlay, Republican, was to talk at Akron, and former Congressman Isaac McCullough, Canton, was to speak at Oxford today.

Of the Democratic speakers, Charles V. Triax, Bucyrus, nominee for U. S. senator, long term, was to speak today at Kenton; Carl Smith, Kenton, nominee for secretary of state, in his home town; former U. S. Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland, at Sandusky, and former Attorney General Frank Monnett, Columbus, at Cleveland.

Great Voters' Army

they say, particularly in the west represents Protestant, dry women who have registered for the opportunity to vote against Smith.

On the other hand, they know that in some sections of the country, particularly in the wet and populous east, the increased registration represents the determination of Catholic women to vote next Tuesday for a candidate of their faith whom they believe has been attacked because of his faith.

In Massachusetts, for example, where Catholics represent about half of the population of the state, the registration shows an increase of more than half a million votes. Not even the most optimistic Republican can doubt that Governor Smith is going to get a good break on this new vote.

Campaign Along Geographical Lines.

The campaign divides for the final drive along geographical lines.

Governor Smith stays in the east, where he must run strongly if he is to win.

Secretary Hoover goes west to vote—and incidentally to do some campaigning enroute in places where he is popular.

The Democrats are extracting a good deal of satisfaction out of Secretary Hoover's change of plans for his trip to California. Originally, they point out, Mr. Hoover was merely going to make a flying trip to California to vote. His revised itinerary now calls for speeches in St. Louis, Louisville and Pueblo, with a score of rear platform talks clear across the country. In Democratic eyes this has the appearance of Republican nervousness.

fully weathered terrific gales on the first half of its return flight from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen, Germany, the Graf Zeppelin was believed to be nearing the European continent early today.

Latest reports from the Zeppelin stated that the 24 passengers, crew of 40 and the lone stowaway aboard, were all well and had apparently suffered no ill effects from the buffeting of the winds.

The Zeppelin, according to weather experts, has now entered an area of better meteorological conditions. It is still believed to be holding to its course just south of the 49th parallel of latitude.

May Not Pass Over Berlin.

It is felt that Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf, will hold to this direct course until he reaches the coast of France, unless diverted by further storms. If he does, the Zeppelin will pass south of both Ireland and England.

Eckener is known to be anxious to bring his airship back to its hangar at Friedrichshafen in the shortest possible time. Judging from the position given by two ships which sighted the Zeppelin approximately 700 miles southwest of Fastnet, Ireland, at 7:15 p. m., (E. S. T.) last night, the Zeppelin should reach the coast of France before noon, if it continues on an eastward course.

Should the Zeppelin encounter bad weather, experts here stated, Eckener probably would head for the Bay of Biscay and then head northward over southern France. Otherwise, it was regarded likely the Zeppelin might be headed slightly farther north to pass over London and then possibly going south over Paris.

Because of heavy fogs over northern Germany, there appeared to be little likelihood that the ship would pass over Berlin before heading for its hangar.

Under a subsidy of the War Department, established to make the country independent of foreign producers in time of war, several hundred automobiles are being made each year in Japan.

ELECTION NIGHT SUPPER POPULAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Election night will be somewhat like a New Year's eve in New York. Hotels and restaurants are being besieged with requests for reservations for election night suppers.

It will be the first big election night in 12 years, in the opinion of competent judges. Interest in the outcome of the election is tremendous and great throngs of people are desirous of getting the latest radio reports while dining and dancing uptown.

Practically all the big hotels report that reservations for private parties are heavier than for any similar occasion in years.

over fifteen thousand million dollars, 50 per cent more than the gigantic sum lent to Europe in the war by this country.

This "social surplus" comes in EVERY YEAR.

That is a substantial "back log" to keep the prosperity fires burning.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, Jr., in memory of his mother, gives to the University of Chicago $1,000,000 "to promote the religious idealism of students of the university."

THOSE, unfortunately numerous, that do exist WITHOUT religious idealism, never lifting their eyes from the ground to contemplate and question the heavens and the glory that they declare, are like the men living in Plato's cave, their backs to the light, knowing only shadows on the walls.

MR. RASKOB says that Pennsylvania is CERTAINLY going Democratic. Republicans say the south still is CERTAINLY smashed.

Gov. Smith, now traveling through it, in the last few days of the campaign may change conditions. His last-minute trip indicates that his managers are worried about the south.

In the United States 43,000,000 have registered, this total number is greater by 14,000,000 than the number that voted in the election of 1924.

It is expected this year will be increased by more than 8,000,000, or almost the total of the Democratic vote in 1924.

Somebody apparently is interested.

FATHERS and mothers of young girls should be interested in the fact that, among all crimes, the greater increase has been in crimes against women.

THERE can be no doubt that increase in such vicious and dangerous crime is stimulated by the modern women's fashions, skirts short and tight, etc.

They may not be immodest, but they are in some cases DANGEROUS.

Co-Ed Sob Story

father of four children. By day he is a teacher of salesmanship, public speaking and expression. Miss Knaak seemed not to know that for the past week Hitchcock has been laid up at his home with a broken leg.

The young woman's story of how she climbed to the mouth of the furnace and held herself there until she apparently dropped unconscious to the floor, tallied with facts in the possession of investigators. Her nude body was found near the furnace early yesterday. She was rushed to the Lake Forest hospital.

Story Drawn from Girl.

At the first sign of consciousness, State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county bent forward and asked:

"Who did this?"

"I did it myself—for faith, for purity," she whispered.

By degrees, this story was drawn from her.

"I have known Mr. Hitchcock for four years. I studied from him while I was teaching school in Waukegan. A few months ago I got to know him intimately."

"Understand this was no material love affair. Advanced psychology made me understand him. For several weeks I have been hearing a voice say 'Have faith—have faith.' That was his voice."

"Thus we communed, though material distance might place us far apart."

Hears Voice Say "Have Faith."

"I had an appointment with him last night. He did not keep it. I had given him all, all my love. When he did not appear, I communed with him in the spirit world before the fire. Again I heard the voice—'have faith.'"

"To prove my faith, I thought of the fire. I removed my clothing, which I burned. Then—I burned myself."

After calling for a drink of water, the girl rested a moment and then continued, a triumphant smile lighting her countenance:

"But I survived. I proved my faith, and I'll live. Be sure of this: I knew I would survive. This was no effort at suicide."

Physician Believes Story.

Dr. A. J. Rissinger, who attended the young woman, said the story seemed incredible.

"To believe it," said Dr. Rissinger, "you must accept these facts: 'She first placed one foot, then the other, in the furnace, and kept each there for some little time. Then she thrust in head and arms and held them there until what certainly must have been terrible pain. The firebox is only 12½ by 8½ inches.'"

Marcell Hitchcock, located at his home in bed, denied that he had ever had any sort of love affair with the girl.

"I gave her lessons in sales psychology for two years," he admitted. "She then withdrew to take a position with a Chicago publishing company. Since then she has visited me for advice. When she encountered difficult problems I told her how to handle them. That was the extent of our relations."

Miss Knaak is 30 years old. She had attended the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois and the State Normal college at Ypsilanti, Mich. She has been an ardent student of psychology and metaphysics.

SMITH GOES TO NEW JERSEY

Governor Will Speak in Newark Armory Tonight.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 31.—Half a million people in Hudson county, New Jersey, it is estimated, will greet Governor Alfred E. Smith when he passes through Hoboken, Jersey City, Harrison and Kearney tonight on his way to the first regiment armory in Newark where he is scheduled to speak on labor. His opponent, Herbert Hoover, chose the same topic when he spoke in Newark.

The reception to Governor Smith is expected to rival the demonstration in his honor last week in Jersey. Tonight's reception will include a parade over a route of 10 miles profuse with red lights and fireworks.

byterian church, general chairman of the campaign will preside.

Arriving here during the day the carpet for the platform was tacked down before the choral gathering last night. It was used in Greenville, N. C. and Madisonville, Ky.

During the day bunting and other decorations will be hung in sections throughout the structure.

During the choral practice last night, Albert Peterson, the evangelist's advance man, said:

"This is the seventy-fifth choir that I have formed since my connection with Billy Sunday, and I want you to know that it is among the best that I have seen start out. You go to your work as if you had had great deal of experience. I am sure that Mr. Rodeheaver will be delighted with the material which he will find when he arrives here."

When a vote was taken but few persons in attendance admitted that they had not previously sung in a union revival service.

Peterson at Piano.

With Peterson at the piano the chorus was directed by Prof. Laughlin. He gave way for periods to the Rev. D. E. Young, pastor of the First Christian church of Wellsville, and Peterson himself. During the latter's tenure of the baton, Mrs. Lee Carroll, musical director of the First Methodist Protestant choir, acted as pianist.

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was the significant first song which was followed quickly by "I Need Jesus" and "More Love To Thee." The selections fittingly epitomized the invocation sentiment of Peterson that "in the coming revival many now outside may be brought within the kingdom and numbers now in the church given a new vision of the Christ."

Known as the "Praise and Worship Hymns" the book to be used during the campaign contains 206 songs.

Custodian Introduced.

In attendance also and himself a singer of note was the Rev. R. M. Davis, of Chester, W. Va. He plans later to assist in the singing.

All the singers were attracted to the metallic voice carrier that covers the speaker's platform.

Willis Locke, the custodian of the building, was introduced to the choir by Peterson. He will assume personal charge tonight.

A new feature of the tabernacle is the business room on the northeast side of the platform. In it is a locked cabinet which will be in charge of the secretary, Fred A. Smith, of the Methodist Protestant church. In it will be placed signers' cards, each co-operating congregation having a section within it. Alongside it will be the emergency hospital in which are a stove and cots.

TWO-MAN POLICE FORCE "FIRED"

NEWCOMERTOWN, O., Oct. 31.—This city's entire police force of two officers, one of whom has already been discharged, will not be suspended until a substitute for John Blatt, chief of police, can be found, Mayor Marion Mercer announced today.

City council Monday night ousted D. O. Nicodemus, night marshal, and requested Mercer to eject Blatt because of a party they said he attended at the home of John Runkle last Friday night.

Sheriff Abe Laird and Deputy Walter Strine said they found Blatt at the Runkle home and the chief admitted he had been drinking. Nicodemus, it is said, had left before their arrival.

Borah in Baltimore Tonight.

The Republican organization meanwhile kept after Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, who has followed Smith all over the country, will speak in Baltimore tonight, where the Democratic nominee spoke Monday night. Borah incidentally will close the Republican campaign with a 30-minute radio address Saturday night.

Hoover will visit the Republican national committee headquarters during the day to say goodbye to the workers there. He has completed a draft of his St. Louis speech and his only other duties, until he departs for the west tomorrow evening, will be to interview party leaders and take things easy.

Raskob declared that his tariff commission proposal was frankly a challenge to "Republican propaganda" which seeks to inculcate the impression generally that a continuance of the present era of national prosperity is dependent upon success of the Republican national ticket at the polls next Tuesday.

COUNTY DRIVE
Republican Party Asks Assistance in Final Week.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 31.—Nationwide organization of the Hoover-Curtis Legion with a slogan, "One Million Contributors," has been announced from Washington by J. R.
Nutt, treasurer of the Republican national committee, after a conference with Chairman Huber Work.

In Columbiana county several people have already become active members and are working to get others to join. Among them are Mrs. Jason Brookes and Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin, of East Liverpool.

Herbert Hoover's indorsement of the Hoover-Curtis Legion and a plan to get a great number of small subscriptions—a dollar or more—to the National Republican campaign fund also was made public by Nutt. Hoover's statement being as follows:

"Campaign contributions should not be limited to the few. I believe there should be the widest possible participation in raising the necessary expenses of the campaign.

Seek One Million Givers.
"Every presidential campaign is an important educational period in national issues. It is the duty of political parties to present their views and the issues to the public. This involves a legitimate expenditure of money, all of which is publicly accounted for.
Therefore, all those who are interested in the issues and the Republican party should assist the committee in this work."

"We are looking to the women to help us set up this organization of one million givers and we are confident that with their experience in organization they will be a vital factor.

With the indorsement of Herbert Hoover and the national campaign committee the Hoover-Curtis Legion asks that every Republican organization in Ohio aid in getting 100,000 members.

Ask Men and Women to Join.
State headquarters are at 1014 Union Trust building, Cleveland. It is from here that committees and individuals are being interested in securing small contributions of one dollar and up.

Men and women of clubs, societies and social and civic organizations are asked to join. Every contributor of one dollar and up will receive an

Letters To The Editor

Favors Hospital Tax Levy,
Editor, Review,
City.

Dear Sir:
Your editorial on the proposed City hospital tax levy was interesting to me.

I have a family of five children, and within the last few years two of these children have been in the City hospital for operations and one child was born there. It was surprising to me how they could take care of my wife and baby in the maternity ward for $2.50 a day. The food and service were good. All the medicines she required were furnished without extra charge. The baby was well cared for and the nurse service was extra good.
Your editorial explains how this was possible.

Well, I'm not looking for charity but a man with a family of five children cannot pay fancy prices for hospital service. I consider it of more importance to a community to have good hospital service at a price within reach of the poor man than to have a big football field at a cost of several thousands of dollars to the taxpayers.
It would be poor policy on my part to vote against the hospital tax levy when it would cost me less than $1 a year to help make the City hospital possible for my family and thousands of others at rates we can afford to pay.

Me for the City hospital tax levy!

VOTE ON LEVY FOR SCHOOLS

Salineville Electors Asked to Provide Extra Mill.

SALINEVILLE, O., Oct. 31.—Village voters will pass judgment on a one-mill additional levy to raise funds for Salineville public schools at the polls Nov. 6.

The three-mill levy which has provided funds for the operation of schools has expired and school authorities point out, it is necessary to procure additional revenue through the passage of the one-mill levy in order to make possible a full nine-month term.

In view of a heavy vote expected next Tuesday Salineville election officials are urging citizens to vote early, asking women, especially, to make efforts to get to the polls during those periods in the day when workmen are not at the voting booths, in order to avoid congestion.

M. R. Ruble, Uniontown, Pa., airplane designer, will address members of the Salineville Kiwanis club Thursday at noon.

Ruble will discuss the value of the proposed airport and plane manufacturing plant for Wellsville.

Attendance prize will be donated by Charles Maple. A number of Wellsville Kiwanians expect to attend.

Kiwanians held a Hallowe'en party Monday night at Addison hall. Judges in the costume contest included Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Swords of East Liverpool and Miss Brown, high school teacher. Awards were made to Mrs. Edith Simpson, Mrs. Mabel Saxton, Mrs. George Williams, Thomas Eason, Mrs. Ralph Addison, Mrs. Will Eason, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Morrow, Francis Daley, Misses May Kelley and Lois Moore. COOKING SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Bliss's important discovery in taste

FOR a long time we have been suggesting that housekeepers test Crisco by actually tasting it before they use it for cakes and pies and frying.

Why? Because we knew this test would convince them that the sweet delicate flavor of Crisco could not help but improve the flavor of foods prepared with it. Let Miss Mary A. Bliss tell you how she feels about Crisco:

"I tasted my Crisco and really, I never thought I could make such a discovery. I knew that Crisco was unparalleled for obtaining that wholesome rich flavoring, in frying and baking, but never did I believe that such a delightfully fresh taste could be found in Crisco direct from the can.

"I am a New Englander by birth, and so, of course, apple-pie and doughnuts are two of my weaknesses. Before I discovered the use of Crisco, my doughnuts were soggy and my pie-crust was tough. Now I am told by my friends that never have they eaten such crisp doughnuts and flaky pie-crust as I make."

See if the test suggested below doesn't give you, too, the surprise of your whole cooking experience:

Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon. On the tip of another, a little of any other shortening. Taste first Crisco, then the other fat. Had you imagined there could be such a difference in the taste of cooking fats? Think what an improvement Crisco's sweet, wholesome flavor will make in the taste of your own pies, cakes, muffins, biscuits and fried foods.

Apple Sauce Cake

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup Crisco
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
1 cup thick unsweetened apple sauce
2 cups pastry flour
1 cup seeded raisins
1 egg beaten
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cloves
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon soda
3 tablespoons hot water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

Cream sugar and Crisco. Add egg and raisins cut in half. Dissolve soda in hot water, mix with apple sauce. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and spices. Add alternately with apple sauce to creamed mixture. Bake in Criscoed loaf pan in moderate oven 350° F. one hour.

Caramel Cake

Cook in iron skillet $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar until it smokes. Remove from fire. Stir in quickly $\frac{1}{4}$ cup boiling water, then boil until it starts to thicken.

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup Crisco
2 cups sugar
3 egg yolks unbeaten
4 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk
Caramel syrup
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon vanilla
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 egg whites stiffly beaten

Cream Crisco and sugar. Add yolks, caramel, vanilla and cream well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with milk. Fold in egg whites. Bake in 3 layers $\frac{1}{2}$ hour in moderate oven 350° F.

Nut Caramel Frosting
1 cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup white sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup broken walnuts
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup boiling water
2 egg whites stiffly beaten
Boil sugars and water until it forms a ball in cold water. Beat slowly into egg whites. Continue heating until cool. Add pinch Cream of Tartar, vanilla and nuts.

[All measurements level]

Walnut Loaf Cake

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup chopped walnuts
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups pastry flour
2 $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoons baking powder
3 egg yolks beaten light
2 egg whites beaten stiff

Cream Crisco, sugar and salt. Add yolks, nuts and milk, then flour, and baking powder sifted together three times. Last fold in egg whites. Bake 45 minutes in Criscoed angel cake pan in moderate oven 350° F. Cover top and sides with plain icing. Sprinkle with chopped walnuts or use them whole. The Caramel Nut Icing is also delicious on this cake.

Potters Face Salem Saturday In Crucial County Title Clash

Air Play To Be Used By Rivals

Forward Pass Battle Looms in Reilly Field Game.

Having disposed of one opponent, East Palestine in the 1928 Columbiana county gridiron sweepstakes, Blue and White gridders Saturday will tackle another and more dangerous championship rival Saturday when they invade Reilly Field, Salem, for their annual battle with the Quakers.

Judging from performances to date, Salem, Wellsville and East Liverpool are the outstanding eleven of the county this year. Salem has virtually disposed of Wellsville's chances by their recent victory over Coach Evans' squad on the down river lot.

Should the Red and Black cop from the Potters (which they won't if the locals play heads-up ball) they would have no one to contest their county title claims.

If the Blue and White wins at Salem Saturday, the locals then would have to win from Wellsville in the Thanksgiving clash at Patterson Field to nail up the pennant definitely and finally for the season.

The race last year was sort of a stand-off as a result of the scoreless tie between East Liverpool and Salem. The two teams battled in the proverbial sea of mud, neither being able to do anything in the way of consistent attack in the ankle-deep mire.

From all indications to date, Saturday's tussle at Salem looms as a battle of forward passes. Both eleven have been consistently successful with the aerial method of gaining this year and there's hardly any question that they'll take to the air early in the coming tilt.

Salem gridders were given a rest Saturday. Part of the squad was on the sidelines when the Potters battled Bellaire while others took in the Youngstown South-Chaney game.

The Quaker squad, physically, is in peak condition for the game with the locals.

Coach Hurst plans several still workouts for the Potters this week, with special attention being paid to the maneuvering of the line.

Work on the punt defense formation which has failed in the pinches this year undoubtedly will be emphasized.

In the Holy Name, East Palestine and Bellaire games, the failure of the line to function on punts from the Potters' own goal line spotted the opposition at least one touchdown. In Saturday's contest with Bellaire, it meant a defeat.

Tough Stretch Looming For Carnegie Tech

Tartans Face Georgetown, Notre Dame and New York U.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 31.—Still undefeated in five games this season, the Carnegie Tech gridders will buckle down to practice this week to prepare for the most difficult stretch in the schedule when Georgetown, Notre Dame and New York University will be met on consecutive Saturdays.

Fortunately for the Tartans, an open date in the schedule next Saturday comes as an opportune time as several of the first-string players are temporarily laid up with injuries received in the hard-fought engagements with W. & J. and Pitt.

Latham Flanagan, husky ball-totting end, was unable to play in the Pitt game on account of a battered shoulder, and it is a question whether the coming two weeks will be enough for him to recover from the injury. Although Schnupp, the giant tackle, played a full game against the Panthers, he is still nursing a lame shoulder, while Dutch Eyth, fast running halfback, is also on the casualty list with leg and shoulder injuries received prior to the battle last Saturday.

As a result of the battering received in the Pitt tussle the list of injured players now includes Moorhead, Highberger and Karcis. Moorhead was knocked unconscious early in the game, and Highberger and Karcis have leg injuries that will slow them down for several days to come.

Injuries to both Moorhead and Eyth, who alternate in the running halfback berth, resulted in a redeeming aspect, however, in the "discovery" of Thayer Flanagan, twin brother of Latham. Thayer was sent in to replace Eyth and Carnegie followers are jubilant in recalling the manner with which he filled the post.

Griffin at Halfback For Hanley Eleven

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 31.—Coach Hanley is using Bill Griffin at left halfback in practice workouts and it is believed Bill will get his big chance against Minnesota Saturday. Hanley's team so far has lacked a scoring punch.

Penn Center is Out Of Chicago Scuffle

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Leon Westgate, Penn varsity center, is definitely out of the Chicago game with a broken finger. Schaaf and Gervin may start at the wing positions in place of Olexy and Ball.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 31.—In practice Penn State is aping Notre Dame, State's opponent next Saturday. Three complete teams were given a heavy workout yesterday.

Ohio Grid Foes Line Up Again

Outstanding Battles on Saturday's Card.

FOR unalloyed football enthusiasm and ambition with mayhags a bruised torso or two, the Saturday tilt of the Deference-Bowling Green gridders is recommended. Neither team has been scored upon by its Northwestern conference adversaries, and each eleven has a serious pig-skin complex.

In southwestern Ohio, Ohio university seems to have the edge on Miami for the Oxford scramble, though the Butler county team has had two weeks' rest and may give Coach Pedan's crew some vivid moments.

Marietta's pioneers hit New Concord for the Muskingum skirmish. The Muskies looked like old times against Akron last Saturday, and it is hard to see how Marietta can fare better than the Rubber City crew.

The Dayton Flyers have been playing heads-up football all season, although the victor's laurels remain elusive. This mostly because of a tough schedule. Chicago Loyola at Dayton should reverse the order.

Another interstate tussle of moment will be exhibited at Cincinnati when St. Xavier Musketeers glow upon Kansas Wesleyan.

Little Red Riding Hood and the wolf is the skit that will be played between Findlay and Ashland at Ashland. What! You don't know the answer?

Capital goes to Tiffin as an offering to the Heidelberg crew. Western Reserve looks like a setup for Akron. Ohio Wesleyan, very prospective champs of the Buckeye and Ohio conferences will keep in trim against Wooster, in the latter's halliwack.

In the other interstate conflicts Oberlin goes to Rochester, Camp Hill meets Purdue's Boiler-makers at Lafayette, Ind., but why? And Toledo will get a football lesson from the college of the City of Detroit.

Marshall college will entertain the ghost of a once great eleven whose name was "Bo" McMillan.

Noxville, Tenn., plays Wilberforce at Xenia.

JINX HITS MOUNT GRIDIRON HOPE

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 31.—Mount Union followers of the gridiron team are now asking and wondering if there is some conference "jinx" that is spoiling each year Mount's chance to grab off a conference championship. Prospects for a perfect season never seemed more rosy than they did this year when the Oberlin defeat last Saturday struck the "Purple" eleven from the list of conference contenders. In 1927 it was Wooster who gave the Mount team its one set back of the season, and so the history repeats for each year that a Mount Union team has been rated as of championship calibre.

This Friday the Mount eleven battles Koryon at Gambier. Kenyon, on the basis of the season's records to date, should give the "Purple" a slight let down, the first since the opening game. Ohio Northern and Akron are the two remaining rough spots that the Mount must polish off this year.

Hawkeyes Pointing For Ohio State Tilt

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 31.—Apparently discounting the South Dakota game here Saturday, the Hawkeyes are pointing for the conference clash with Ohio State Nov. 10, concentrating on a defense against the Buckeyes' highly-touted forward pass attack.

Ohio Football Card

Friday, Nov. 2.

East-West Contests Scheduled

Intersectional Games Add Flavor to Grid Menu.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—With five eastern teams tackling opponents from mid-western sectors, Saturday's football card presents a decidedly intersectional flavor. Princeton meets Ohio State on the latter's field, Penn clashes with Chicago in the Windy City, Penn State moves over to Philadelphia for the Notre Dame game, Army entertains De Pauw at West Point and Colgate plays Wabash at Hamilton, N. Y.

Princeton and Ohio State are undefeated, although the record of the Tigers is marred by a scoreless tie with Virginia. The Chicago engagement appears to be a likely spot for Penn to start a comeback such as they made last year after suffering several unexpected setbacks. Penn State should provide a first-rate test of the authenticity of Notre Dame's reformation.

The Army-De Pauw game figures to be just a breeze for the Cadets. How Colgate will perform against Wabash is a mystery. Earlier in the season Colgate appeared to be one of the strongest teams in the east, but was crushed by New York University last Saturday, 47 to 6.

The New York University-Georgetown contest in New York will be the only game in which two undefeated and untied teams clash. The N. Y. U. warriors are second only to Georgetown in the list of the east's high scoring teams.

Yale and Dartmouth, both beaten for the first time last Saturday and both inching to take it out on somebody, will mingle at New Haven. Other ancient rivals will meet when Syracuse tackles Pittsburgh, Columbia meets

Moran and Wilde head a milt schedule which, on the face of things, bespeak action all the way.

The six-round semi-final, especially, is regarded as one of the features of the show, with Young Profia, Pittsburgh junior welter, appearing against Walter O'Keefe, Alliance pugilist.

Profia is one of the latest ring sensations to be uncovered in the Pittsburgh district, no small amount of his popularity being attributed to his knockout ability. He carries dynamite in both gloves and uses it without regard for his opponent's face or feelings.

With this quartet—Moran, Wilde, Profia and O'Keefe, doing the honors in the semi-final and the final and a bunch of comers throwing leather in the prelims, there should be an unlimited amount of punching from bell to bell.

Ray Mitchell, East Liverpool junior welter, and Jackie Walsh, Sebring, fighting at 140 pounds, are matched for the second preliminary of four rounds.

And Young Aloysius, the "fighting Syrian," will have a trial against Nick Caruso, the Midlander, in the four-round opener.

O'Keefe will work out this afternoon at the Grand Billiard parlors, along with Ray Mitchell. The Alliance pug will do his stuff there daily from now on until Monday night.

Billiards

Crawford won one of the closest games of the season last night at the Club Billiard parlors when he nosed out a victory over Farrar, 35 to 34. At no stage of the game was there a larger margin than two billiards separating the pair.

It was Crawford's first victory of the tourney. Farrar to date has failed to get into the win column although his defeats generally have been by a small margin.

White and Wallace are slated next. Cornell and Lafayette battles Washington and Jefferson.

Harvard will have an easy opponent in Lehigh. Other western games include Brown vs. Holy Cross and Navy vs. West Virginia Wesleyan.

Thrilling story of love of two girls for the same man

By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER 2.

It was the most heavenly morning. Different from all the other mornings. Brighter, sweeter, more freshly drenched in dew. The very birds praised it. The blossom laden trees sent up their fragrance, incense to the spring. The world was different, Daphne knew that before she had really opened her eyes. Different, because of yesterday.

She sat up in bed, the funny little iron bed she had ever since she was a child and which had been successively white, pink, a terrible blue that didn't look at all like the color of a paint catalogue, and was now white again with a bit of the blue showing through. The second Mrs. Haines, who was "doing over" the old house bit by bit, had been intending "to get at" Daphne's room for six months, but as yet she hadn't and Daphne didn't care. She liked it shabby and bare because it seemed more like home . . . like . . . like when Mother was alive.

But this was a happy morning. Ralph . . . Ralph McKeeth. She had only to shut her eyes to capture again all the dreams of yesterday. Ralph talking to her, stopping her in the orchard, looking into her face and saying, "Why—you're beautiful!" He'd said that to her—Daphne—whom nobody had ever found beautiful before. And if he said that the first time he saw her, the next time he might say anything . . . why he might take her out some time, instead of Crystal.

Crystal shouldn't care, she had so many . . . I'll ask Father for a new dress, and I'll borrow a little of Crystal's lip salve, and the next time he comes I'll be worth looking at. I'll be out on the porch—no, I won't—I'll be in the orchard again, and he'll stop again, and he'll say . . . Ralph looking down at her again under the blossoms. Ralph putting his hands on her shoulders again. Kissing her maybe, loving her . . .

With a little sigh of sheer happiness she reached under the pillow for the creased and yellow bit of newspaper that was her best picture of him. It wasn't very clear, it might have been any boy in football clothes, with broad shoulders, and fair, tousled hair. But she knew it was "Ralph." She laid it lovingly against her cheek, and sank back into the pillows . . . just for a minute . . .

When she opened her eyes again the bright sun was pouring in the windows, water was roaring in the bathroom at the end of the hall—it was late!

"Oh—and I meant to get up early!"

Mama was getting breakfast already. Daphne could hear her rattling the stove lids downstairs. Funny she didn't call her, she always did . . .

Hastily she sprang into her clothes, laid the best picture of Ralph with the others, equally yellowed and creased, in the pink candy box hidden under her silk slip in the bottom bureau drawer.

"Why didn't you call me?" she cried, as she ran into the kitchen five minutes later. "I just woke up!"

Mrs. Haines, frying bacon and eggs at the range, didn't look up but her red face turned a shade redder and she said in a high, quivering voice, "Because I'm tired calling you. I've done my best. Nobody can say I didn't do all I could. But I'm through. I'm through!" Her voice broke.

"But Mama—I don't understand."

"All right, I'm not asking anything from you. I don't want any help. My head's splitting and Crystal's sick, but never mind."

"But I want to help—please let me. What's the matter with Crystal? Please let me finish getting breakfast!" Daphne tried to take the long handled fork out of her stepmother's hands, but Mrs. Haines pushed her away angrily. A hard, sharp push, almost a slap.

There was nothing else to do, the toast was made, the table in one corner of the big kitchen—they always ate in the kitchen except when there was company—was laid with the red and white checked tablecloth and the rosebud pattern dishes that had been Mother's best. They came with soap coupons.

"She's been having a fight with Crystal," Daphne thought, without much rancor. The mysterious arguments which went on behind closed doors between Mrs. Haines and her daughter always ended in red eyes and tantrums, and she had learned to take them the way the orchardists take unseasonal rain and wind calamity to be borne with.

Oh well! It was too nice a day to spoil. Daphne went and stood at the kitchen door, waiting for the storm to blow over. From the doorway you could see the orchard that melted into the Turner's orchard, and the Norton's beyond. One great sea of foamy white blossoms, a bridal bouquet for a lady giant, that spread the length of the great valley, and reached to the edge of the purple hills . . . so lovely . . . so lovely . . .

"For God's sake shut the door!" Mrs. Haines screamed in her ear. "Flies coming in. I've got enough to do without chasing flies—I—"

"But I've got the screen door shut!" Daphne cried indignantly. "There aren't any coming in. You—you make me sick!"

"Is that the way you talk to your mother?" And there was Father, pompous and bristling with a before-breakfast frown. "My mush, Daphne. And the milk. And in the future, be a little more considerate!"

"Never mind," Mrs. Haines broke in tearfully. "I'm used to it. I don't expect anything different. I can bear it. I'm only a stepmother. It's only when she turns on Crystal that it hurts. Then—" She clutched her side dramatically, "then a knife turns 'me." She sank into a chair, and buried her face in her hands.

Instantly Father was bending over her, his short, thick arms around her fat neck. "Adeline—darling—you aren't well. Last night—I knew you weren't—you mustn't worry so—you mustn't!"

The eggs were burning. Daphne swept them off the fire, her young mouth set in a hard, red line. This was worse than the fighting, listening to Father talk that way, with that queer throb in his voice and his eyes so bright and beseeching, as if he were going to cry . . .

"I'll thank you to keep a civil tongue in your head!" he roared at her suddenly. "Your mother's a sick woman!"

Didn't close her eyes all night. You might at least have helped get breakfast. Now pass me the bread. And the butter."

Daphne pushed them toward him. "I did want to help—she wouldn't let me—"

"She—the cat's mother," Mrs. Haines murmured, adding cream to her coffee, and stirring it elegantly, her little finger crooked.

"You know I wanted to help!" Daphne burst out bitterly. "And I don't know why you didn't let me. I notice you usually do. I—I don't know what's the matter with everybody. Oh I don't know what's going to become of me—I don't—I don't!"

They let her rush out of the kitchen, down the back stairs, into the yard.

Old Mr. Haines went on eating stolidly. Two eggs. Four slices of bacon. Three pieces of bread. His wife watched him, sipping her coffee, saying nothing.

When he had finished she came over and stood beside him, drew his round gray head, with the dry thin hair and the bold spot on the forehead against her soft bosom. "You see how it is," she whispered. "How she talks to me. When I try so hard—"

"Poor little woman!" He patted her hand fatuously. "You're too sensitive. Let her alone, that's all. You can't do anything with the young one—regular wild cat. Got that from her mother." He stood up with a little grunt—he felt his years in the morning—sixty-six—getting old, getting old . . .

"When I think of what you must have suffered with her mother. Well, I'm quick. I saw it the first time I set eyes on her. I said, 'There's a cold one,' I said, and a hard one. She don't understand that man!"

"Bless you, Adeline, bless you!" Old Man Haines' eyes were misty.

"Well, no use crying over spilt milk," his Adeline cut in heavily, pulling away her hand and starting to stack the dishes briskly. "By the way, Abner, I want to give a few little parties for Crystal this summer. We ought to let her have young folks, and you enjoy them too, and the way the young girls take to you—" She laughed and poked him archly in the ribs—"You old sheik, you!"

MARIE PREVOST IN CERAMIC HIT

Fortunately, Marie Prevost hasn't forgotten the tricks she learned while a bathing beauty for Mack Sennett a few years ago.

Her new Pathé-De Mille star picture, "The Girl in the Pullman," now at the Ceramic theatre, includes a swimming sequence, in which the piquant Marie appears in a swaggy bathing suit, and she takes a graceful dive from a ten-foot springboard. Before achieving prominence as a feature comedienne, Miss Prevost portrayed through two-reel comedies at the Sennett lot, during which she obtained experience before the cameras that she declares is invaluable to her now.

"PERFECT CRIME" BREATH TAKING

In "The Perfect Crime," a dramatic mystery photoplay now at the American theatre, there is a story which is nothing less than breath-taking.

The splendidly measured tempo of the story, its constantly maintained suspense and its highly dramatic climax combine to make this picture one of the best mystery offerings of the year.

The principal character, Dr. Benson, dean of all hunters of criminals, played by Clive Brook, is introduced quickly and forcefully by those who are helpless without him—the police. It is because of their determination that he shall continue to aid them when he seeks retirement that Brook plots "The Perfect Crime" himself and brings on an unexpected denouement.

There is not a slow moment in the picture, nor is it marred by irrelevant comedy which so often eliminates suspense in pictures—and of what good is a mystery story without suspense? From the moment Irene Rich appears, as the beautiful and intelligent sweetheart of Dr. Benson, the picture brightens. She is perfectly cast.

Tully Marshall as the brutal band, and Ethel Wales as the abused wife stands out with dramatic force. And equally interesting characters are drawn by Gladys McConnell, Carroll Nye, Edmund Breese and James Farley. The latter, as a "dumb" detective, furnishes the only permitted comedy relief in a manner that just suits the moment and the tempo of the picture. In "The Perfect Crime," Director Bert Glennon has presented perfectly a screen version of "The Big Bow Mystery," on which the picture was based.

Columbiana

Dr. J. W. Hisey, 74, of Cleveland, formerly a resident of Columbiana, died Friday in the Cleveland Clinic hospital. He was a son of John and Elizabeth Phillips Hisey and was born on the farm three miles east of Columbiana. Fifty years ago he left Columbiana to practice dentistry, first locating in Massillon. For the past 35 years he had been in Cleveland.

He leaves one brother, Dr. M. E. Hisey, of Painesville. Mrs. Lauren Myers, North Main street, is a niece. Burial was made Tuesday in the Columbiana cemetery.

Mrs. Russell Esterly was hostess Friday evening at her home on West Park avenue to the Entre Nous club, the occasion being the annual Halloween masquerade of the club. Three tables of "500" were in play with Mrs. Robert Esterly receiving the prize for high score and Mrs. Roy Harold the guest prize. A two-course lunch was served. Guests were: Mrs. Roy Pavey, Columbus; Miss Ruth Sample and Miss Valda Johnson, Alliance; and Mrs. Lewis Bowman and Mrs. Roy Harold. Mrs. Bert Dickinson will receive the club in three weeks at her home on North Main street.

Among the out-of-town shoppers in Columbiana Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfeister and family, Mrs. Linda Ott and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stiller and family, all of North Lima. The entire teaching staff of the Columbiana schools were in Cleveland Friday and Saturday attending the convention of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' association.

Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick entertained the Saturday Night Bridge club at her home on South Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Basler and daughter, Helen, spent the week-end at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Baker and son Jack of Beaver Falls spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Mary McGale.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mortz and daughter of North Lima were Columbiana business callers Saturday afternoon.

Miss Sarah Leonard, teacher in the Jewett high school, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Leonard, South Elm street.

TEN CASES ASSIGNED FOR TRIAL NEXT WEEK IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

No Session Will be Held On Tuesday, Election Day—Judge Lones to Preside.

LISBON, O., Oct. 31.—Common pleas court will be in session four days next week, no session being scheduled for Tuesday, election day. Ten cases have been assigned for trial, with Judge W. F. Lones presiding. The assignment follows:

Monday.
Public utilities commission of Ohio vs. Charles C. Herriott, charged with contempt.
Frank M. Lawton et al vs. John A. Given.

Wednesday.
Harry Clark vs. Willis Huckworth, Merle Miller vs. Leonard Barber, Dallas J. Hanna et al vs. Leonard J. Berber.

Thursday.
Emily D. Howell et al vs. Martin V. Howell et al.
Sarah Reinherth vs. Andrew Wagner.

Friday.
North American Service company vs. Metzger hotel.
Earl L. Grate vs. Martin McGregor.

TWO DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Constable Earl A. Ritchie, of Salem, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Edith Ritchie, whom he married at Lisbon, June 7, 1922. Ritchie is the father of four children, the eldest being four years and the youngest two months. The petition was filed by Metzger, McCarthy & McCorkhill of Salem.

Mrs. Ritchie charges her husband with extreme cruelty, and alleges that he struck her in the face and bruised her, and called her vile names, and has also threatened to do her bodily harm.

The plaintiff seeks the custody of her minor children and alimony.

Ritchie has been taken before Juvenile Judge Lodge Riddle where an order is to be issued against him. Sidney W. Young, of 123 West Fourth street, East Liverpool, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Helen A. Young, her petition having been filed by Cochran and Crawford.

They were married at Lisbon Aug. 23, 1916 and have two children, aged 8 and 6. In addition to charges of gross neglect of duty, and extreme cruelty, it being declared by the plaintiff that the defendant for five years has refused to associate with her. The custody of the minor children and alimony are sought.

Three Men Fined $50 Each.
Entering a plea of guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Paul Woodruff, George Boyd and Roy Mankin, all of East Liverpool, have been fined $50 and costs by Juvenile Judge Lodge Riddle, and sentenced to the county jail until the fines and costs are paid.

Defense Wins Replevin Suit.
A jury in common pleas court has returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case of Glen Hawkins against Sheriff George Wright, an action in replevin. The sheriff, on order of court, executed a replevin order on property in the possession of the plaintiff.

PLEASANT VALLEY SOCIAL FRIDAY

A Halloween social will be held Friday night at Pleasant Valley school house in Franklin township, in charge of Miss Twila Hughes, the teacher. A musical and literary program will be featured. Lawrence H. Copeland, a member of the county fair board, will be the auctioneer at a bake sale.

DAVEY SPEECH HITS MASCHKE

Democratic Nominee
For Governor Visits
Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, today added fuel to the fire in Cuyahoga county politics.

Choosing a psychological moment, just a few hours after Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown had dismissed the county board of elections for alleged nonfeasance of duty, Davey in a speech here last night, denounced "Republican corruption."

He assailed Maurice Maschke, Republican chieftain here, and charged him with responsibility for the political situation. A recent statement by Maschke that Davey is a favorite of the Ku Klux Klan was branded a "deliberate lie." Davey appealed for the election of a Democratic state and county ticket, "for honest government."

Other speakers at the rally were Justice John H. Clarke, of the United States supreme court and former Senator Atlee Pomerene.

Coal pulverized to the fineness of toilet powder is being used on some English ships, and it is claimed the saving over ordinary coal is $1.50 a ton and the increase in boiler efficiency is 20 per cent.

An earthenware jar containing coins of the thirteenth century, each bearing the effigy of Louis IX, was recently found by workmen while demolishing an old house at Combours, France.

BOARD OUSTED

Bernstein and Farrell
Will Fight Removal
Order.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31.—"A new era has dawned in Cuyahoga county so far as election affairs are concerned," Burr Gongwer, Cleveland Democratic "boss," had made this statement today following the wholesale dismissal yesterday of the county board of elections by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

Brown came here at the request of a special grand jury which had been investigating evidence of irregularities and frauds in the August primary election. The grand jury, led by Attorney General Edward C. Turner, recommended that all members of the board of elections, except Mrs. Bernice Pyke, be removed, charged that they have been guilty of "disregarding obvious signs of detecting fraud."

After examining the evidence Brown dismissed the entire board, Mrs. Pyke included, and installed F. A. Stetson, Elyria attorney, and Judge George C. Barnes, of Wilmington, to take charge of the election office here until another board can be named.

Asks Public to Suspend Judgment.

Alex. Bernstein and Thomas Farrell, Republican members of the board, declared that they would take court action against the removal order. "We ask that the public suspend judgment on ourselves as individuals and on the Republican party until all the facts have been heard," Bernstein said. "All we want is justice."

RICHARD HUDNUT DIES SUDDENLY

JUAN LES PINS, France, Oct. 31.—A heart attack was believed today to have caused the death of Richard Hudnut, wealthy New York perfumer, who passed away suddenly at his chateau here last night.

Mr. Hudnut's daughter, Natacha Rambova, was the dancing partner and second wife of the late Rudolph Valentino, film star. They were divorced.
